Documents you may receive in the financial planning process

We will provide you with several documents as you progress through your financial planning and advice journey. We may provide these documents electronically to your nominated email address, unless otherwise agreed.

When we provide personal advice, it will normally be documented and provided to you in a Statement of Advice (SoA). The SoA contains a summary of your goals and the strategies and any financial products we may recommend to achieve your goals. It also provides you with detailed information about product costs and the fees and other benefits we and others will receive, as a result of our advice.

If we provide further personal advice an SoA may not be required. We will keep a record of any personal advice we provide you for seven years. You may request a copy of such records by contacting us during that period.

If we recommend or arrange a financial product for you, we will provide a Product Disclosure Statement (PDS), or Investor Directed Portfolio Services (IDPS) guide where relevant. These documents contain the key features of the recommended product, such as its benefits and risks, as well as the costs you will pay the product provider to manage that product. You should read any warnings in your advice document, the PDS or IDPS guide carefully before making any decision relating to a financial strategy or product.

The fees charged for our advice and services may be based on a combination of a set dollar amount, or a percentage-based fee. Our agreed advice and service fees may include charges for one off or regular fees. We may also receive initial or ongoing commissions from certain product providers.

Licensee fees

All permissible fees and commissions will be paid directly to the Licensee. It will then pass on the amounts due to us through its payment system. The Licensee charges us a Licensee Fee each year. The Licensee Fee is determined as an annual amount based on a number of factors, including our business revenue, the number of advisers and/or accredited mortgage consultants in the practice and a practice fee.

Other costs may apply in the process of providing our advice and services to you. We will agree all additional costs with you prior to incurring them.

The following table outlines the range of fee we charge and should be used as a guide only. We will discuss your individual needs and agree our fees with you. The actual agreed fees will depend on factors such as the complexity of your circumstances and goals and the scope of the advice. All fees and charges include GST.

Fee type & Description
Initial or ad hoc fees
Initial Advice: Initial advice fees are tailored according to our client's individual requirements. The Initial Advice fee is usually a flat fixed rate for the initial advice and implementation of your financial plan. It covers the cost of researching and preparing your financial plan. The Initial Advice Agreement sets out what our initial advice covers and how much it costs. Fee Range: between $3,300 to $8,800.
Initial Appointment We offer a free one hour initial appointment for clients seeking comprehensive financial planning services. Any time exceeding this forms part of our initial services e.g., collecting relevant information and assessing your needs. Clients seeking general information will be charged the hourly rate of $385.
Advice implementation An implementation fee may be charged separately to cover the administrative time spent implementing the recommended strategies and products and is based on a set dollar amount. Fee Range: Implementation fees start from $550. Where we provide risk protection and insurance strategy advice, we may waive the cost of implementation and receive insurance commissions instead. We may assist you with direct shares and listed securities transactions including opening broker accounts on your behalf. A transaction charge may apply at our hourly rate of $385 for lodgements or attending to client transactional requests.
Additional Advice or ad-hoc services For additional advice outside of the Annual Advice Agreement, or other services as agreed, an ad-hoc advice fee may be charged based on a set dollar amount (fixed rate) or on an hourly rate basis. Significant changes to your situation and strategy may involve ad-hoc advice and implementation fees. Fee Range: A charge of up to $385 per hour or charged as a flat fee starting from $550.
Annual advice and service fees You can elect to enter into a 12-month advice and services agreement as part of your financial planning strategy. The fixed rate fee can range from $2,200 to $11,000 depending on the level and complexity of service. Details of the services and fees will be set out within the agreement. Your annual advice and service agreement is tailored to your individual needs and provides for a review of your financial plan or existing strategy to keep you on track with ongoing access to your adviser and support staff.
Commissions
Insurance: Initial commissions: Up to 66% of the first year's premium for new policies implemented from 1 January 2020. We may receive commissions on increases or additions to existing policies of up to 130%. Ongoing commissions: Up to 33% of the insurance premium each following year. For example: On insurance policies implemented from 1 January 2020, if your insurance premium was $1,000, we would receive an initial commission of up to $660. We would receive an ongoing commission of up to $330 pa.

Other benefits we may receive

In addition to the payments explained above we may receive other monetary and non-monetary benefits, support services or recognition from the Licensee to help us grow our business. These are not additional costs to you. They could include training, badging rights, technology and technology support, marketing, financing, events or other recognition we are eligible for. We may receive benefits from product issuers that may include non-monetary benefits that are valued at less than $300.
